Republican Convention Now in Session at Fort Worth—How It Stands.

Fort Worth, June 12.—[Special]—The convention of the Texas Republicans from all parts of the state is here in attendance for the first state convention of League of Nations. Notwithstanding the prophetic predictions of peace in the ranks it was not early in the day that the convention would be a hot one, the delegates being an attempt to foist on the party the census plan of representation in conventions, if adopted, would cut down the negro strength to such an extent that the whites would be in complete control.

W. Cuney, the brainiest negro politician, and leader of the black faction, was early on the ground, working against the proposed census plan. His work had a decided effect, and it is more than probable he will win his fight, although there is a strong white element against him.

It is estimated that there are five hundred delegates in the city, but a large number of prominent politicians who are not delegates. The convention was called to order at 2 p. m. in the city hall auditorium by D. A. Robertson, president of the state league, and an address was delivered by President Meek, of the local league.

This was responded to by Mr. Arthur Stenger, and the convention then settled down to business.

It is the sentiment of all present that a full ticket, both state and local, be put in the field by the state convention.

Inspectors Blessington and Donnell are pushing the work of examining premises and have very few complaints to make.

With the garbage furnace in operation daily and a systematic sanitary inspection, less apprehension for malaria is felt this summer than any previous season.

WANTS HIS OWN.

Young Crocker Trying to Cash In His Railroad Stocks.

San Francisco, June 12.—The Chronicle revives the story that George Crocker is the cause of the trouble in Southern Pacific circles, and that he was positively denied the privilege of withdrawing his share of the great Crocker estate from the Southern Pacific pool. The Chronicle says young Crocker made a formal demand upon the Crocker heirs, whose interests are managed by the Crocker Company, to withdraw every cent of his money and his share of his father's estate from the railroad. He desires to have nothing to do with the transportation company.

When Charles Crocker died, the story goes, his affairs were so arranged that George Crocker was not to receive his division of the estate for five years, and then it was conditioned that young George must cease his dissipation. For five years the young man has led a quiet life, and as a result he has received $400,000 in the last four months. This placed him in an independent position and now he is demanding what he claims as his rights.

The Chronicle states that C. P. Huntington's practical usurpation of all power in the Pacific Improvement company has agitated Mrs. Stanford as well as George Crocker, and both are determined to withdraw.

The demands for accounting, it is said, will be resisted by Huntington, who is said to have threatened that if they withdraw from the Pacific Improvement company, they must dispose of their shares in open market.

Wheat Grinders Meet.

Kansas City, Mo., June 12.—The first annual convention of the Southwestern Wheat Millers' association met at the Coats house today. President C. B. Hoffman and Governor William C. Renfro, of Oklahoma, were among the speakers. One of the principal objects of the association is to place before the people of the southwest the necessity of opening the Mexican market to American millers.

A COMPROMISE MADE

Between the Operators and the Strikers.

Considerable Complaint on Both Sides, But Many Mines Will at Once Resume Work.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 12.—The settlement of the coal strike at Columbus was received with great satisfaction among all classes of people, although some operators and miners are not pleased with the compromise. Many operators who opposed the compromise say they will not abide by the result, but the general opinion among friendly operators is that the agreement will put an end to the importation of non union men by the operators in the thick vein district, for the reason that hiring deputies is too expensive and when mining is resumed at a number of collieries coal will decline.

The friendly operators have already begun preparations to resume, and in a few days their mines will be running.

Organizer Harris says the settlement is a disappointment to the miners, and while he does not expect them to refuse to work at the new rates, they will regard the movement as unsuccessful.

Haven't Heard the News.

Ashland, Ky., June 12.—The local fuel supply, both household and industrial, is now effectually shut off. The men of all the local coal banks that heretofore furnished this, last night enlisted with the United Mine Workers and quit work.

Accepted as Final.

Kewanee, Ill., June 12.—Nearly the whole force of miners have gone to work here. While there has been considerable feeling among the few union men that are here there has been no violence, and the settlement at the Columbus convention will be accepted as final.

Do Not Take It Kindly.

La Salle, Ill., June 12.—The miners here do not take kindly to the scale agreed upon at Columbus. They claim that the new price for La Salle is equivalent to 10 cents reduction, and declare they will not accept it.

Stopped a Coal Train.

Monongahela City, Pa., June 12.—A train loaded with coal, accompanied by forty armed deputies, left Manown at noon today for Pittsburg, but when it got here it was surrounded by strikers and the cars uncoupled. The railroad officials then ordered the train sidetracked, and the deputies marched back to Manown. A crowd of strikers is now gathered about the works and trouble is expected.

Miners Indignant.

Cincinnati, O., June 12.—Specials from various mining districts in this state to the Times Star show that while everywhere the people are rejoicing over the Columbus settlement of the coal strike, the coming recall of troops, and the resumption of mining business, the miners themselves are everywhere indignant. They do not go to the length of saying they will not accept the settlement, but say they must first get an official statement from the officers of the Union.

A COLLISION EXPECTED.

Trouble Brewing at Some of the Pennsylvania Collieries.

Punxsutawney, Pa., June 12.—Trouble is anticipated today at the Berwind and White mines, near Lindsey. About 10 o'clock fifty more iron and coal police went over the road from the east, and hills surrounding the mines are strongly picketed. Miners are pouring into the town from Adrian and Anita, and indications point to a collision before night.

It is reported that a skirmish took place about midnight at Anita, the report of cannon and small arms being distinctly heard in Punxsutawney. The principal demonstrations are being made by Hungarians and Slavs. The English speaking miners are opposed to violent measures, and are doing all in their power to hold the aliens within the limits of the law. Arms have been purchased by the county for the use of the local deputies.

The Diggers Highly Pleased.

Farmersburg, Ind., June 12.—It looks as though by next Thursday all the coal mines in Sullivan county, where the struggle has been most intense, will be in operation. The outcome of the conference at Columbus is regarded here as certain to bring about a settlement. There is great rejoicing in Sullivan county at the turn of affairs, and the coal diggers are highly pleased.
